ATM industry will gather in Dubai for major conference and expo in January 2013

RBR and the ATM Industry Association are once again joining forces to produce Middle East ATMs 2013, the region's only conference dedicated to the ATM. The conference will be held at the Radisson Blu Hotel, Deira Creek, in Dubai, on 21st and 22nd January 2013.

Centred around an extensive speaker programme based on deployer case studies, the event also features a vendor technology exhibition area where delegates can view the latest ATM-related products and services, share ideas and experiences and network with colleagues in the industry.

Middle East ATMs 2013 will include speakers from Afghanistan, Egypt, Iran, Kuwait, the Lebanon, Oman, the Sudan, Syria, Turkey and the UAE as well as from markets outside the region. They will share their experiences on various aspects of ATM deployment including end to end ATM outsourcing, interchange fees, predicting ATM demand, ATM security measures, deposit automation and recycling, unstaffed branches, branchless banking and much more.

The programme features 25 speakers representing banks, vendors and industry bodies from across the world. The organisations represented include Azizi Bank, Banque Audi, Bank Saman, Barclays Bank, the Central Bank of Oman, Garanti Bank, İşbank, MashreqBank, Network International, Syrian International Islamic Bank and UnionPay amongst others.

Around 200 banks, independent deployers, network processors, vendors and service providers are expected to attend the event, providing an excellent opportunity for networking. It also takes advantage of RBR's 30-year experience in the ATM arena and ATMIA Europe's not-for-profit work in the ATM industry.
